This authorises Scobie and Junor to hold stock on your behalf and to re-order product in line with your consumption, so that you are able to call off your regular purchase quantities per the order pattern above.

If your order pattern is about to increase, you should notify us within the mfg lead time for the product to allow us to have stock available per your new requirement.

If your order pattern is about to decrease, you should notify us and we will reduce our stock holding levels.

If you decide to stop buying any customer specific stocked product from us, we will advise stock which must be taken and agreed delivery date. Residual stock should not exceed the agreed max stock holding for the product.
